Second Harvest Food Bank of Orange County
2016 Annual Report

Together we will create a future in which no one goes hungry.
Ever.

BOLD GOAL BIG DREAMS

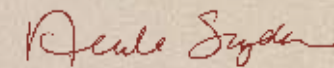

Dear Friend, Even with a recovering economy, rising costs for rent, transportation, medical care, and food squeeze the budgets of so many of our neighbors. Too many of our children and seniors are going hungry and it is only with your continued help that we can begin to bridge that gap.

Today. In 2016, we provided 20.1 million meals, a record in more than three decades of feeding the hungry at Second Harvest. Part of that progress came from adding six more School Pantries—where families can select fresh food within walking distance of their homes.

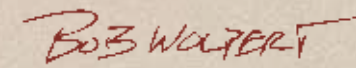

Tomorrow. Our new strategic plan sets a Bold Goal that commits us to providing 30 million meals by 2021. And that puts us on track to actually close the meal gap—to reach all our hungry neighbors—by 2025.

Efficiently. This year we were selected as one of the most trusted brands in Orange County. That long-standing reputation helps us partner with more agencies and attract more donors and volunteers. Which in turn helps us spend a full 94 cents of every dollar directly on feeding the hungry.

Please help us with our Bold Goal so we can reach our own Big Dream: That no one should go hungry. Ever.

The Reality: Every day, more than one out of five families can't afford the basics: Food, shelter, medicine. The vast majority of them are the working poor, seniors on fixed incomes, veterans, people with chronic medical problems, and women and children fleeing violence. The daily struggle to fight hunger and homelessness crowds out any hopes for the future.

The Promise: While we can't control rising rents, we can feed these hungry families. For more than three decades we've helped to collect and distribute food from a wide variety of sources: rescuing dairy, meat and produce from grocery stores, prepared foods from restaurants, hotels and catering companies, and packaged food from manufacturers, processors, wholesalers and retailers. We get produce from farmers and farmers' markets, and we grow our own at the Incredible Edible Farm. We stage food drives at local companies and organizations, and we share with other food banks in our Feeding America network.

Bold Goal. Big Dreams.

A photograph of three young children of diverse backgrounds smiling against a chalkboard background. Three thought bubbles are drawn in white chalk above them, each containing a child's aspiration. The child on the left has long blonde hair and is wearing a green top. The child in the middle has dark curly hair with a white bow and is wearing a red cardigan over a white shirt. The child on the right is a young boy with short dark hair, wearing a red and white checkered shirt and a purple backpack. The chalkboard background is dark grey with several small white circles scattered around the thought bubbles.

A photograph of a man with short dark hair and a goatee, wearing a black t-shirt, holding a baby. The man has his eyes closed and a gentle expression. Above his head is a large, hand-drawn white thought bubble on a dark grey chalkboard background. Inside the bubble, the text "I'd like to see my son graduate from college." is written in a white, cursive font. To the left of the bubble, three small white circles are drawn, connected by a vertical line, suggesting the path of the thought.

*I'd like to see my son

Bold Goal: Last year we served more than 20.1 million meals. But to bridge the gap between the meals we provide now and what our neighbors need, we must increase and improve everything we have traditionally done, and add innovative new programs. That means:

- Doubling our Senior Grocery Program distribution of produce and staples to senior centers by adding more locations and more days.
- Expanding our Kids Cafes for after-school and summer meals to provide more than a half-million meals.
- Visiting 30 more schools with Mobile Pantries that let families select the food they can use.
- Building Permanent School Pantries at five more locations.
- Tripling sign-ups for CalFresh benefits.
- Upgrading the trucks and refrigeration we need to reach our partners at church and school pantries, shelters and soup kitchens.

It's Up to You. What will it take to reach those bold goals so all our children can achieve their big dreams? We just need a little help from you. Donate funds or stocks, or name us in your will. Adopt a School Pantry. Volunteer to harvest produce or sort food. Host a food drive where you meet, worship or work. Attend our Serving Hope Breakfast in the spring or the "No Lunch" Lunch in the fall. Bring your friends or colleagues for an up close and personal tour of our facility. Or bring your kids to volunteer at Izzy's Corner. If every one of us gives just a little, we can create that future in which no one goes hungry. Ever.

Bold Goal. Big Dreams.
